FRESH KICKS

Who knows what adventure might bring, from rugged deserts and windswept plains to soaked mountain passes, but you can always be prepared with the right gear like the Klim Adventure GTX boot. The Adventure GTX boot has all of the features you might need out on the trail or road, with ample protection throughout, and a Gore-Tex liner to keep you dry. In addition, calf and Achilles flex zones allow a natural range of movement when walking, while the Michelin rubber outsole provides good grip and traction. MSRP is $449 with sizes ranging from 7-14.

FLASHY HARDWARE

The Kodlin Elypse LED front turn signals are low profile, sleek LED units that are available as a universal fit, or for any Harley-Davidson Milwaukee-Eight Softail motorcycle. Discretely attached to the brake and clutch master cylinders, these bright LED turn signals feature a sturdy CNC machined billet aluminum housing. Two color choices are available, black and chrome. Some applications may require the use of a load equalizer, and these turn signals can be used as dual-function running lights when paired to the Badlands Hard Wire Intensifier Module. MSRP is $199.95.

NEW LID

The all-new Quin Design Quest modular full-face helmet is the latest DOT and ECE certified "smart" helmet from the tech-focused brand. Standard features include Itelliquin Automatic Crash Detection and a live-tracking SOS Beacon. The outer shell uses K6 Carbon Fiber weave, which helps keep the weight down to 3.66 pounds with the peak removed and 3.86 pounds when installed. Owners will be able to lock the helmet in an open-face position, preventing it from falling unexpectedly while riding. An internal sun visor and UV-coated clear face shield are included. MSRP is $699. Visit: quin.design

LEATHER DUDS

Aerostich's popular Transit line is receiving an update, with the Transit 3 waterproof leather jacket and pants. Abrasion resistant, micro-perforated 1.2mm leather allows these garments to remain waterproof and breathable. The Transit 3 jacket and pants are just as feature rich as before, but include improvements like a larger zippered pocket on the right forearm, waterproof under-arm vent zippers, a fold-away reflective cover over the dual-zipper back vent and a 270-degree pant-to-jacket zipper. Short, regular and long sizes are available for both items. MSRP for jacket: $987; pants: $897; two-piece suit: $1,784. Visit: aerostich.com

BAVARIAN FARKLE

National Cycle, purveyors of all things windscreen, has announced an update to its popular VStream series with a line of windscreens for the BMW F 900 XR. A sport, sport-touring or touring windscreen is available, all of which are substantially larger than the OEM offering. VStream windscreens use a proprietary "V" shape to redirect air out and away from the rider's helmet, creating a quieter, more comfortable riding experience. Each windscreen is constructed with durable 4.5mm Quantum hard-coated polycarbonate, providing clarity and strength. Prices range from $139.25 to 164.25 depending on the model.
